From Advocacy to Action: Building a sustainable economy to support Hawaii's future

January 11, 2010 to January 13, 2010

Hawaii Convention Center, Honolulu, Hawaii

This three-day conference seeks to actively engage both the Hawaiian and the broader business community to seek ways to lay the foundations for economic sustainability, while creating a long-term economic strategic plan that creates opportunity for future generations to become self-sufficient as they seek self-determination. From community co-ops to corporations, we offer this conference as a place to share your mana'o as we strive to attain a vibrant and sustainable economy that honors our traditions and provides for our future.

Day 1: Will feature speakers on topics relating to issues facing Native Hawaiian Businesses and ways to seek economic self-sufficiency

Day 2: Will focus on topics relating to Government Contracting. Speakers from the Small Business Administration, General Service Administration and DoD Western Regional Council on small business.

Day 3: Will focus on Hawaii's Energy Initiatives covering topics on Clean Energy Initiatives, Energy Efficiency Measures relating Building Codes and Standards, and Renewable Energy.
